Criteria and weighting	Level	Comments
Knowledge and understanding of the topic/ issues under consideration (30%)	Satisfactory	There is knowledge demonstrated in the assignment content, but not enough research has occurred to underpin the discussion. Pertinent points are drawn through the assignment, but there isn't enough critical discussion and this is because research is thin. Probably better time management will likely support a more rounded outcome for future summative.
Criticality (30%)	Satisfactory	Don't use word counts through bullet points and listing, this is a very descriptive way of using research and you should be using your own critical academic voice to analyse and evaluate research to develop debate, [we've discussed this extensively in seminars and criticality and evaluation is also often mentioned in your online research materials]. There is too much use of listing in the content of the assignment currently. Whilst you have interpreted research in your own words, there is a lack of debate and discussion in the content. Avoid merely interpreting research, get involved with deep research moving forward on very focused aspects of your topic and you will find that criticality develops more readily when more research is examined
Use of relevant sources (20%)	Satisfactory	There are a limited amount of references given all that we have covered to date, and that reading and research need to happen in your own time as well. And so invest in that additional research moving forward for future summative. There is a lot of generalisation in your content [particularly through the earlier stages of the assignment], that isn't underpinned by research and so do bear this point in mind moving forward. You do have a general holistic knowledge of this subject, but much more theoretical underpinning will be needed for future summative.
Structure and Presentation (as detailed	Excellent	Generally excellent presentation of the assignment which is professionally slick and academically appropriate. Your content is visually easy to access, although you do need to apply page in the assessment guidance) (10%)		numbers to your pages. The structure is well laid out and well thought through from a presentation perspective, well done here. Take this approach for forward for future summative and your capstone project.

Academic integrity (10%)	Satisfactory	The assignment is within word count which is good practice. Only use speech marks when denoting a quote, if using a quotation add a reference after this. Avoid repetitive phrases such as 'cyberbullying', plan your sentence structure and break up repetitive phrases to enable a less descriptive tone to your academic writing style. Set your dictionary to English default to avoid Americanisms such as rumor being applied to text. Work on your academic tone of voice, for example, 'they start uploading inappropriate stuff'; try something like, 'Cyberbullies try to intimidate victims of their crimes by uploading inappropriate content', keep formal and academic at all times. The formal academic context in your writing style is up and down through the whole assignment. Some aspects would benefit from being thought through more, and there is relatively frequent use of informal and at times emotive syntax and I do feel this is down to time management. Some areas of the assignment are stronger than others, but you do need that holistic approach to your summative content, please bear this in mind moving forward. There are more opportunities to cite in your content, where there is a fact or research resource discussed you need to cite it. Use full words and not contractions and so don't should be do not.
Overall
Positives: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • There does appear to be an intrinsic knowledge of the submit, [but it needs more academic underpinning] • There is a genuine attempt to layout the assignment presentation to an excellent standard overall • The assignment was handed in on time
Points for development: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research is thin and needs to be much deeper for future summative submission • You do need to time plan your content more • With a deeper research approach your critical and academic tone of writing will develop
